JAMES CAMPBELL, Junior. December 31 1816m

The Life of Patrick Henry.

PROPOSAL
James Webster, of Philadelphia, for publishing by Subscription, THE LIFE OF
The late Patrick Henry, Containing many of his Speeches, &c. embellished with a Likeness: By Wm. Wirt, Esq. of Richmond, (Va.)
Extract from the Port Folio for August, 1815.
It is not without a sentiment of sincere gratification that we witness, in the following proposal, arrangements making a competent hand, to do justice to the character of one of the most worthy and distinguished of our countrymen. As a statesman, a civilizer, an orator and a patriot, Patrick Henry was entitled to stand the foremost rank. Nor do his merits in an inferior station as a firm, an honest, and an honorable man. He was of those worthies on whose parity of character could never fix a stain.
If it were not much for Mr. Henry's character while living, accident has not wanting in its favors to his posthumous fame: for to have found such a biographer as Mr. Wirt, so competent as writer, and so peculiarly well qualified very moral relation, is not the least fortunate incident in his history.
In Mr. Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry are irresistibly impelled to expect that the materials being excellent, and great abundance, and the writer able devoted to his subject. Nor do we that the public will run any risk of disappointment by hearing us compare our high expectations. We hope, indeed, have no doubt, that the will receive a liberal patronage."

CONDITIONS.
The work will be printed on a fine paper, in one octavo volume, and will run from 350 to 400 pages.
It will be delivered to subscribers, in call binding, at three dollars per copy. The price to non-subscribers will be five dollars and fifty cents.

Virginia Legislature.

Yesterday, a variety of local business as done in the House of Delegates.

NEW BANKS.

We have to announce the passage of the Bill through the House of Delegates, "Establishing sundry new Banks within this Commonwealth." The question was taken on Monday, at a late hour, Mr Blackburn having previously spoke a considerable time in opposition to it—The bill succeeded by the very thin majority of eighty to seventy eight.—It has gone up to the Senate, who, it is hoped, will modify this important measure.

The House of Delegates filled the blank in the bill, so as to extend the charter to May, 1834—the time, when the bank of Virginia will expire by its own limitation. The whole subject will then again come in review before the legislature; who may either abolish the whole system, or modify it in such a way, as the lights of experience may direct.—This, at least, is the idea of the friends of the bill.

If this Bill passes the Senate, in the shape in which it left the other House, the number of Banks and the amount of banking capital will receive a considerable augmentation; the former in a much greater proportion than the latter.—To give some idea of this, we subjoin the catalogue of the new banks, and their proposed capital stock—as detailed by the bill, now before the Senate.—As the Literary Fund Banks cut a prominent figure in the scheme, it is essential to present a view of their composition.

This scheme contemplates a Bank in Richmond under the name of the Literary Fund Bank of Richmond, with a capital of $1,500,000 in shares of $100, 750 to be retained for the use of the Commonwealth, to continue a part of the Fund for Internal Improvement; 5000 to be disposed of to individuals, and the residue to be for the sole use of the Literary Fund. Banks for disposing of the shares to individuals to be opened, on the 1st Monday of April next; 1-5 of each share to be paid in the legal currency of the U. States, at the time of subscribing; 30 days after 1-5th; 1-5th within 30 days after the last, at which time the bank is to go into operation; and the residue shares to be charged with the payment of the 750, belonging to the Fund for Internal Improvement. The shares subscribed by the Literary Fund, are to be paid, one moiety in 6 per cent stock of the state to be created for that purpose; the other in the stock now held, and which may be hereafter acquired by the Fund, or in the legal currency of the United States 1-5 at the time of subscribing, 1-5th in 90 days; and the other 3-5ths in instalments of 6 months. The denomination of the 6 per cent stock, and the period of redeeming the same, together with the fund for the redemption thereof to be hereafter established by law, &c.

It is expressly provided that the principal as well as the interest of the 6 per cent stock created by the State, is to be charged upon and to come out of the Literary Fund.

A subsequent section provides that if the 5000 shares authorized to be subscribed by individuals, be not taken within ten days after the opening of the books, then that subscription is to be null and the money returned—but the books are again to be opened on the first of November.

The Bank at Richmond is to establish a branch at Lynchburg.

On the same principles, there is to be a Literary Fund bank at Norfolk the capital stock $300,000; 450 shares to be allotted to the Fund for Internal Improvement; 5000 to individuals; the residue to belong to the Literary Fund. The President and Directors are to have it in their power to subscribe $50,000 of the stock to the use of the Roanoke Navigation Company.

If the subscription of individuals should fail in Norfolk, and fill in Richmond, then the subscription made by the Literary Fund to the bank at Norfolk, is to be transferred to the stock of the bank at Richmond, whose capital is to be enlarged in that proportion.

A bank is to be established at Petersburg on the same principles and terms as at Norfolk.

The following, then, are the Banks and capital to be created by this bill:

1 Literary Fund bank at Richmond {burg} $1,500,000 2 do Branch at Lynchburg {burg} 300,000 3 Literary Fund bank at Norfolk {burg} 300,000

24 Port Royal, Caroline City, {burg} 200,000

Deduct what is to be contributed by and for the Literary Fund,

Leaves to be furnished by individuals,

This calculation too excludes the 15 per cent, on the capital of the preceding Banks, which pay a bonus to the State, and which will furnish 15 per cent, in addition to the capital.

None of these banks, but the Literary Fund banks, will open their books till the 1st of November next. But the books for the Literary Fund Banks will open on the 1st Monday in April, one fifth of the shares taken by individuals to be paid down in the legal currency of the U. S. One fifth, in 30 days after, and so on one fifth, for every thirty days in succession. The effect of this operation on the money market may be thus stated:

Shares to individuals in Richmond 5000 do do Norfolk 3000 do do Petersburg 3000

Shares 11,000

At 100 dollars a share, 1,100,000

Which being payable in 5 monthly instalments, will call for 220,000 dollars of specie a month, counting from the 6th of April next.

Then on the 6th of April, will be paid

6th of May 220,000
6th of June 220,000
6th of July 220,000
6th of August 1,100,000

This specie cannot thus be drawn in without embarrassing the existing banks. Then, curtailment, possibly, probably, a denial of accommodation will again be the order of the day.

NEW-YORK, Jan 1, 1817.

Messrs Editors,

I have endeavored to be an useful member of society in this country during fourteen years, beginning with 1792.

At my return to France in 1806, I published 5 vols. 8vo. which witness also my zeal for the same.

Since my return in June last, I studied what best could serve its interests. The manufactures appeared connected with my intention to display the information I could procure in Europe for the improvement of the arts and sciences in the United States.

With this intention, a prospectus for a directory of the manufactures has been issued by me.

A few days ago, as a natural consequence, some discoveries in dyeing were thrown in my way. I communicated them to some of the warmest friends of the manufacturing interest. My hope of reading them in the last meeting of the Society for its encouragement having been disappointed, I wish you would be so kind as to insert them in your paper, for fear of a similar disappointment at the next. In so doing you will oblige very much.

Your very humble servant,

DE CARITAT.

P. S. I waited on all the officers and members of the committee of the society. His excellency the governor of the state, the first vice president of the society, and the president of the said committee, have already subscribed to the directory published to.

Manufactures of the United States. DYEING.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Society for the encouragement of Manufactures.

Mr. George Trevelyan, born in Switzerland, a dyer by profession, a resident for nearly four years in this country, the language of which he can speak, and now in this room, has been introduced to me a few days ago, by a friend of mine, officer in the service of the United States.

Through the kindness and zeal of Mr. Mitchell, and Mr. James Robertson, with whom I have made him acquainted, he had communication at a work just published in Boston, and sent by the translator, Mr. H. A. S. Dearborn, to the former gentleman. When he had read it over, and examined it, he came again to me, wishing that I should state to you his observations and discoveries, either relative to the subject, or to some other branches of his profession, tending altogether to show his devotedness to the general welfare of this his adopted country, and particularly to its manufacturing interest.

The following are nearly his words and meaning not perhaps in the technical terms of his art, and still less in the scientific, but in as plain a language as I have the habit of.

Pastel, or Wood, on which a treatise, translated from the French has just been published in Boston, is well known and familiar to Mr. Trevelyan, not as having cultivated the plant himself, over frequently saw and the soil; nor manufactured, also acquainted with the process, having only employed its progress, as made by the French, its quality, and its indispensable nature, to obtain the deep rich blue color, will then ground of his remarks now.

Without Pastel, or a substitute, analogous, according to his possibility of dyeing, in a manageable blue, let the matter will, of a superior quality, is not indigenous to the States, and has in Europe been by the learned among the nature, as deserving the treatise concerning it.

But, by either the natural talents, necessity or chance, repeated experiments and discoveries in this country, about two years past have been in deep blue of a quality, without Pastel at all, that the plant called Milk Weed, or Silk Cotton, grows wild in the states, constantly with a product equal to that resulting from the even now bought several in New York for sale, and to submit it to fair trial.

Another of his discoveries, the dye of Madder in the dye for deep blue wool, Blood Root was tried by him, as a substitute for that has been found even more than madder itself.

By other experiments he has found that the Blood Root dye color to wool

With an equal success, on cotton, when preparation for being dyed in the dye, he likewise found that the dye with the blood root brilliant scarlet color on cotton addition of Madder. But the substances did not allow his experiments, which he ever lost sight of, and will be as his situation will permit after stating these discoveries.

Mr. Trevelyan desires me to recommend him to your notice, and through you to the other individuals in the Union, practical and we'll tried talent. None more, or less, consistent, however, confidence he must have, who, by his industry, he is what will be deemed adequate to the objects of the society, relative to his discovery, to devote himself as a leading the practice of his out the States, wherever it for dyeing may be established.

Mr. President, and Gentlemen, I feel happy in being brought this Report before you, and of the circumstance, that I shall always continue opportunities to serve both similar societies; or their virtually, and the country at the greatest candor and respect.

Your very humble servant,

DE CARPENT.

P. S. I waited on all the officers and members of the committee of the society.
His excellency the governor of the state, the first vice president of the society, and the president of the said committee, have readily subscribed to the directory alluded to.

Manufactures of the United States.

DYEING.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Societies for the encouragement of Ma-cultivated the plant himself, which, however he frequently saw and observed on the soil; nor manufactured, though he is also acquainted with the process, but as having only employed its product for dyeing, as made by the French and English.

Its quality, and its indispensable use with indigo, to obtain the deep rich and superfine blue color, will then be the sole ground of his remarks now.

Without Pastel, or a substitute perfectly analogous, according to him, there is no possibility of dyeing in deep unchangeable blue, let the materials be what they will, of a superior quality. As this plant is not indigenous to the United States, and has in Europe been considered, by the learned among many of similar nature, as deserving the preference, the treatise concerning it, and especially the success of the experiments made here for cultivating the same, must of course be regarded as most precious and valuable acquisitions. This is the whole Mr.
Treytorrens thinks necessary, or wishes to say at present on the subject of Pastel.

But, by either the natural bent of his talents, necessity or chance, he has, by repeated experiments and practice, made discoveries in this country, which for about two years past have enabled him to die in deep fine blue of at least as good quality, without Pastel at all. The fact is, that the plant called Milk Weed, or Silk Grass, which grows wild in the states, supplies him constantly with a product exactly analogous to that resulting from Pastel. He has even now brought several barrels of it to New York for sale, and he is ready to submit it to fair trial.

Another of Mr. de Carpent's discoveries relates to the use of Madder in the preparation of the dye for deep blue woolsens. The Madder Root was tried by him, as an indigenous substitute for that purpose, and has been found even more satisfactory than madder itself.

By other experiments he also discovered that the Madder Root can give a fine orange color to wool.

With an equal success, he obtained his color on cotton, when in a state of preparation for being dyed in India red.
He puts it likewise out of doubt that he can die with the blood root the most brilliant scarlet color on cotton, by the addition of Madder. But time and circumstances did not allow him to pursue his experiments, which he does not know how to lose sight of, and will continue, as far as his situation will permit him.

After stating these discoveries to you, Mr. Treytorrens desires me also to recommend him to your encouragement, and through you to the other societies or individuals in the Union to whom his practical and well tried talents may be of service. Nay more, with a disinterestedness, consistent, however, with that prudence he must have, when substituting only by his industry, he is offering for what will be deemed adequate to the importance of the objects of his zeal, to render public the secrets of his process, relative to his discoveries; and he desires to devote himself as a Professor for teaching the practice of his Art throughout the States, wherever manufactures of dyeing may be established.

Mr. President, and Gentlemen, I feel happy in being the person who brought this Report before you, and take of the circumstance to assure you, that I shall always continue to look for opportunities to serve both this or other similar societies, or their members individually, and the country at large, with the greatest candor and respect.

ALEXANDRIA. SATURDAY, JANUARY 11.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

January 10.

A memorial has been presented to Congress from the Society of Friends desiring the interposition of government to stop the nefarious & shameless, because open practice of stealing away and selling to slavery, free Negroes. The legislature of South Carolina has been the first to take effectual steps for stopping this disgraceful practice. It is to be hoped every other State Legislature south of the Delaware, will follow that example, and that Congress will fall upon the accursed traffic with all its weight and completely crush it. The memorial of the quakers was referred to the committee to whom that part of the president's message which related to the slave trade, had been referred.

Eccle iterum Crispinus!! Once more they have had "the claim law" and the bill for repealing it, for a whole day (yesterday) before the Representatives, and once again they will have it to day. If they had not pretty strong heads they must be dizzy, with galloping round that wearisome circle. God comfort the heads of their honors, the Senate, when it comes to their turn to amble round in the footsteps of the people's representatives. I have read some where that the waggon horses in England would never be able to perform the prodigies of work imposed upon them, if it were not for the delight they take in the clinking of their own bells. The rob-a-dub of the drum beguiles the soldier's fatigue, and perhaps it is the enchanting sound of their own voices which enlivens the spirits of some of our orators in the same debate which buries the auditors in despondence, or in sleep; thus does kind nature strengthen every back to the support of its own burthen.

By those who wished the claimants under this law not to be dismissed with what congress had last session promised them, and who at the same time thought that object could not be expected either by handing them over for examination to the house of Representatives, who certainly have already as much work on their hands as they can well manage, or to the war department or the treasury, the heads of both which have declared that they have not time to dispatch the arrears of their own offices—by those, I say, various efforts were made either to obtain the present commissioners, or to establish some similar jurisdiction in his place. Mr. Johnson proposed to retain Mr. Lee, his decisions to be revised and sanctioned by the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of war—but this was negatived.
Mr. Wright then proposed to have two additional commissioners who with Mr. Lee should constitute the requisite jurisdiction.—This too was negatived.—Mr. Pickering then proposed to authorize the President to appoint three commissioners; but Mr. Desha signifying that he thought it obvious that the design of gentlemen was to legislate Mr. Lee out of office which he considered a very unworthy act) and that he had an amendment prepared grounded on that suggestion. Mr. Pickering withdrew his proposition, when Mr. Desha moved to repeal that part of the act which appointed Mr. Lee, and to authorize the President to appoint three commissioners in his place; but this proposition was no less unpa-latable than the former ones, and was also negatived.

Then what else could follow but that driven out of every other track the affair should settle down, as in fact it did, into the rut prepared by the committee of claims in the bill before the house, which saddles the war department, (already half foundered with an overload of work) with the examination and judicial decision of all the claims that remain unsatisfied, and which some are so sanguine as to hope may possibly be decided some time during the administration of Mr.

Monroe, or in other words, in eight years from the 4th day of March next.

United States' Bank Directors.—William Jones, Stephen Girard and Pierce Butler of Philad. lphia, George Williams, of Baltimore, and Walter Bowne, of New York are appointed by the President and Senate, Directors, on the part of the government, of the Bank of the U. S. for the ensuing year.

The Times abroad, & at home.

"The temple of Janus is shut" Over all Europe, as well as in the United States and British America, there is general peace; and yet there is heard the cry of general distress. The cause is obvious, though not seen by a great many who blindly attribute the distress the world is now in to the return of peace, and even wish a renewal of war as the best means of relief; as if peace improves, and as if war produces wealth!

With the exception of the unusual and extensive blights of the season just past, the general distress now felt, or a great part of it at least, is the natural result of war.

A war of great magnitude occasions the infliction of a double portion of misery upon the community, both at the period of its commencement, and at the period of its termination. When such a war commences it produces a shock which prostrates thousands in an instant. Its mere declaration is as a death warrant to the circumstances, as well as the lives of multitudes, more especially as respects a commercial nation. Many are at once disappointed of their honest hopes, obstructed in their lawful business, or berubbled of their fortunes. In the progress of the war new tracks are explored and trodden, and vast numbers embark their all in schemes and projects altogether alien to the existing state of things, so that the change wrought by the return of peace brings to them dismay and ruin.

This is the natural course of things, and perhaps fewer on the whole have been ruined in their circumstances by the first shock of war, than by the after-clap experienced at the period of its termination. Each destroys its thousands, and its tens of thousands.

Moreover, in modern times the expenses of war are defrayed with vast sums obtained on credit. Millions upon millions are borrowed till the mass of the pecuniary capital of the nation is employed by government, which seizes it abroad in all directions. Hence during war money, for the most part, is unusually plenty. But when peace returns the money vanishes from the sight of the people at large.—Where is it gone? It has gone into the coffers of the cunning few who, know how to avail themselves of so fine opportunities.

With the people, there is no longer a flush of money, but a dearth. At the same time the people is become debtor, debtor in an immense amount to the government, which now begins rigorously to demand back what it had scattered abroad, together with interest upon every dollar. This puts the people in evil plight of which war, not peace, is the procuring cause. To compare great things with small, suppose two men of large landed interest combated each other in an expensive law suit, and that friends on both sides supplied them plentifully with cash to carry it on—but gratuitously, however, but in consequence of having a firm mortgage on their freeholds for the payment of the principal and interest. During the pendency of the law suit they have an unusual flush of money, but no sooner is it over, than if they come out even handed, they both perceive that their money is gone to fill the pockets of the officers of the court and themselves to be lying under the burthen of a heavy debt. They feel indeed no pecuniary embarrassment till the suit is ended, but the suit is, nevertheless, the procuring cause of that pecuniary embarrassment which they sorely feel afterwards.

A valuable Tree.—A. Mr. Hinsdell, of Bennington, Vt. says the Boston Gazette, cut down an Elm tree last spring, which supplied his family with fuel during the whole summer and left him twelve cords towards his winter supply.
The tree yielded forty eight ox team loads.

Bourbon Cotton Seed.

AUGUSTA, (Georgia) Dec. 28.
The following is an extract of a letter from a merchant of respectability in New York, to a gentleman near this place, to whom was forwarded a quantity of the Bourbon cotton seed.— Should our climate and soil prove congenial to its culture, it will be a valuable acquisition to our planters. In the English market the Bourbon cotton obtains a decided preference over the Sea Island:—
"Having heard last year, that some planters in the neighborhood of Savannah, had tried with success some of the Bourbon cotton seed; I wrote my brother to send me a few bags of it by the first opportunity, and now he sends me a much larger quantity, in hopes of rendering a service to a country where he experienced the kindest hospitality, for which his gratitude shall be everlasting. That seed has been selected in the Island of Bourbon, by the East India Company's agent, who ship's yearly 200,000 lbs. of it to Bombay, and is therefore of the best quality and as fresh as possible coming from such a distance.

From these circumstances, my brother hopes that a few bags of it will contribute to the improvement of your crops of upland cotton, and knowing your particularity for all that concerns plantations, he begs you to accept of them as a mark of his friendship."

Anecdote of Washington.

Richmond, Va. Jan. 2.
In debate yesterday in the House of Delegates, on the bill relative to a map of this state, in which something was said of military roads, Mr. Mercer, of L, related and applied an anecdote of Gen.
Washington, which he had received from a member of the convention that formed the constitution of the U. S. The subject of power to be given the new Congress, relative to a standing army, was on the tapis. A member made a motion that Congress should be restricted to a standing army not exceeding five thousand at any one time. Gen. Washington, who being chairman, could not offer a motion, whispered to a Member from Maryland, to amend the motion, by providing that no foreign enemy should invade the U. S. at any one time, with more

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,
Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.
A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.
For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason to feel that, from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—thus restore & invigorate the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or fulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Tape-worm, or large round worm; the Cucurbitina, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Taenia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face coated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of chint—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands of the inferior part of our citizens.

It likewise the mildest and most safe remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number who in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic cough, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth, and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad living, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthmas, sore throats, and approaching Consumption, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered, which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.

For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Hahn's true & genuine Geyman Corn Plaster.

At the place of sale, pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

ROBBERY.

On the night of the 6th of December, 1816, the Exchange Office of the subscriber, Bridge street, Georgetown, from appearances by a false key was robbed of the following property, in specie, consisting of dollars, change, American and English gold, about 200 dollars; bank notes, mostly three dollar notes of the bank of Washington, and some small tickets, together about 50 dollars, a one pound note of the bank of England, and one hundred and sixty four lottery tickets as per numbers below. The lottery tickets can be of no use to the persons taking them, and an attempt to pass them would only lead to a detection, it is therefore hoped that the person or persons who took them, will return them to the subscriber through the Post Office at Georgetown.
